BISHOP ALAN'S FOREWORD

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

The Church has been shaken over the last few months by the shocking and distressing revelations of historic abuse of children and vulnerable people by members of the laity, deacons, priests, religious, bishops and cardinals. We know too, that some bishops, and other leaders, failed to respond adequately to accusations made against clergy in their diocese.

Since 2001, the Catholic Church in England and Wales has adopted robust procedures in order to begin to rebuild trust. The bishops no longer oversee these matters. Every diocese has an Independent Safeguarding Commission and suspected criminal behaviour must be reported to the statutory authorities.

I want to express my gratitude to our Diocesan Safeguarding Co-Ordinator, Mick Thurley, and to all those who work so hard in our Diocese to make sure that our parishes, our communities and our schools are safe places for all, and especially the most vulnerable.

In solidarity with Pope Francis and my fellow bishops, I want first to express my deep sorrow for the hurt and damage that has been caused to the victim-survivors of abuse.

I am sorry that you have been made to carry this burden because of the failures of some of our clergy and lay people.

Together with the other bishops, I will make time to listen to those who wish to speak with me about the abuse that they have suffered. Our Co-Ordinator for Safeguarding in the Diocese will help me facilitate this.

Second, I know that this will have tested the faith of many people. And that includes the vast majority of our committed lay faithful and the good clergy and bishops who serve so faithfully in their ministry and who all carry the failures of their colleagues with a heavy heart. Please be assured of my heartfelt concern and prayers for you all at this time.

How will it be possible to continue to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ, which is what we are all called to do?

The bishops of England and Wales have recently returned from the Ad Limina visit to Rome. At the heart of this week, during which we met with the officials of the Curia to discuss every aspect of the life and mission of our dioceses, we had an audience with our Holy Father, Pope Francis. He asked us to open our hearts to him about the challenges and the joys of our ministry as bishops. He responded to each one of us with sensitivity and encouragement.

We asked him for a message that we could bring back for our priests, religious and people at this challenging time.

His message was simple: we must keep our eyes fixed on Jesus Christ and remain faithful. We must pray with a greater intensity. And, we must live out our faith with a greater joy – the joy of knowing that Jesus is with us, the joy of knowing the presence of the Holy Spirit is at work in our lives drawing and guiding us to the will of God, the joy of knowing that our heavenly Father is longing to embrace us all with his loving mercy. For joy is the source of lasting peace in our hearts.

Let us pray for one another!

Rt Rev Alan Hopes, Bishop of East Anglia

I am most grateful to those who have played any part in the publication of this Year Book. It is a record of the ongoing mission of our diocese.

DIOCESE OF EAST ANGLIA

The Diocese of East Anglia is a suffragan diocese within the Province of Westminster, erected on 13 March 1976 by the decree Quod Ecumenicum of Pope Paul VI, using territory taken from the Diocese of Northampton, which was created in 1850. After the Reformation, the area of East Anglia was soon placed under the care of the Vicars Apostolic of the Midland District, and later of the Eastern District, until the hierarchy was restored by Pope Blessed Pius IX. Today, the Diocese incorporates the English counties of Norfolk, Suffolk and Cambridgeshire and the city of Peterborough.

THE BISHOP

The Rt Rev Alan Stephen Hopes BD AKC converted to Catholicism in 1994 and was ordained a priest of the Diocese of Westminster the following year. He worked in Kensington and Chelsea and later was appointed Vicar General of the Diocese. He was ordained to the episcopate by Cardinal Murphy-O'Connor in 2003, holding the title of Titular Bishop of Chester-le-Street, and serving as auxiliary bishop in Westminster, until he was appointed Bishop of East Anglia in 2013. He took possession of his cathedral in Norwich on 16 July 2013.

The Bishop's Predecessors

The Rt Rev Alan Charles Clark was the first bishop of the newly erected Diocese, from its creation in 1976 until his resignation in 1995. He was previously Titular Bishop of Elmhurst and Auxiliary Bishop of Northampton. He died in 2002 and is buried in Walsingham.

The Most Rev Peter David Smith was ordained Bishop of East Anglia by Cardinal Hume in 1995 and served as bishop until 2001, when he was translated to the See of Cardiff. In 2010, he became Archbishop of Southwark.

The Rt Rev Michael Charles Evans was ordained Bishop of East Anglia by Cardinal Murphy-O'Connor in 2003 and served the Diocese until his death in 2011. His corporal remains are buried in St John's Cathedral in Norwich.

Catholic Certificate in Religious Studies (CCRS)

The Catholic Certificate in Religious Studies (CCRS) is managed and awarded by the Board of Religious Studies on behalf of the Bishops' Conference of England and Wales. It was introduced in 1991 to replace its predecessors, The Catholic Teachers' Certificate and the Certificate in Religious Education. Any person who is or wishes to be involved in Catholic education and formation may apply for this course. This includes those involved in Religious Education in schools, Parish Catechesis and other ministries in the Church and anyone who wishes to follow the course for faith development or personal interest. The course seeks to ensure that participants have at least a basic knowledge and understanding of the beliefs of the Catholic Faith. It also provides a basis for further study.

The course was revised in 1992. It is designed for teachers in Catholic schools; that they may have a basic understanding of the Church, its teaching and way of life to enable them to contribute to the maintenance of the ethos of the Catholic school. It is also for catechists in order to give them a basic understanding of the faith of the Catholic Church as a foundation for their catechetical ministry, and for adult members of the Church to enable them to continue to grow in understanding as they live their Catholic faith.

Bringing good news to the poor

Caritas East Anglia has been relaunched with a new team and a commitment to support the poor across the Diocese of East Anglia through parish projects and helping individuals in crisis. Administrator Val Clark explains how the St Edmunds Fund and Alive in Faith social outreach funds have been used over the past year.

■ St Edmunds Fund

The old St Edmunds Fund retains its individual identity and accounting but is now subsumed broadly into Caritas East Anglia and deals with emergency grant applications from families or individuals in need but it also considers support for young people wishing to explore a third world project in their gap years or long vacations.

All applications come from either the parish or professionals working with the individuals who endorse them to the parish priest. Over the past year we have supported essential maintenance for families and individuals facing homelessness or job losses resulting in rent arrears whilst they await the support of statutory agencies.

Other couples have been dealing with the sudden onset of a terminal illness and loss of an income requiring some immediate support whilst they re-order their lives. We have also funded air fares to Italy when the death of a parent abroad left relatives without the money to travel to a funeral and an overnight hotel accommodation plus train fares for a couple from Hungary who became stranded.

We have become very aware that the trimming of statutory budgets have left people in crisis with no recourse to meet immediate needs for food and warmth and that is both unlikely to change and more likely to escalate.

We normally turn these grant requests around within a week. The usual practice is to agree (or not) within 48 hours and the parish is asked to provide the funds to the recipient where there is urgency with reimbursement from the St Edmunds Fund.

Several young people have undertaken to work on projects in Ecuador, Africa and Jamaica. All have been raising money for their air fares and maintenance and parishes have also been supportive, but such ventures normally require raising about £2000 which is often beyond both family and parish means. The Catenians have also offered support for these projects and in the future we will direct young people to such alternative funding streams as well. In a similar vein we have enabled a young woman with no supportive family to kit herself out to enter army training.

Finally we have supported the Diocesan Lourdes pilgrimage and a small number of individuals who were unable to afford the full cost and for whom the pilgrimage was important at this stage in their lives. Each individual application was validated by their parish priest

■ Alive in Faith

The Alive in Faith social outreach stream has made possible two substantial grants of up to £10,000 to enable a parish to carry out a particular social outreach project. Firstly to Haverhill – see the picture story.

The second grant of £10,000 went to Emmaus which has established a centre in Ditchingham to assist ex-offenders and recovering addicts with their rehabilitation and future engagement in the work place.

A smaller grant of £2,500 was made available to a Great Yarmouth night shelter for the homeless during the winter months and another smaller grant supported the Social Justice conference held in Norwich in January at which Bishop Alan was a speaker.

Applications for such substantial grants is robust and can take a couple of months. Applications - which must be endorsed by the parish priest - are normally a one-off. After seed-funding a project, we anticipate that successful projects will become self-supporting.

St Francis said 'preach the gospel, use words if necessary'! I think this could well be the motto and charism of Caritas East Anglia and is very much in accord with Pope Francis' thinking.

■ Case study – Haverhill Reach Community Projects

A £10,000 Alive in Faith grant was made to the Reach Community Projects ecumenical group specifically to enable community outreach workers to address issues associated with rural poverty, providing home visits to isolated individuals in need of help with form filling etc.

Reach Projects Director, Henry Wilson, said: "Partly due to the Alive in Faith funding we appointed two advisors cover an area within a 10-12 radius of Haverhill with the aim of tackling rural poverty. Tina covers the South Cambs area and Jo the Suffolk area. There have been some great outcomes for families that we would not have been able to reach two years ago. But we recognise that we are, in effect, only scratching the surface."

Nicola's story: Outreach advisor Jo has been helping a family with a two-year-old child in a village near Clare. They are both working but have 'zero-hours' contracts and have got behind on rent and council tax. Fortunately, Jo was able to take a box of food and top up their electric meter with client aid and then set up affordable repayments to try and help this young family through a difficult period in their lives.

They are not 'out of the woods' by any means, but Jo received a text from them recently saying "thank you... that will help us so much and when we're more stable... we can donate and give back and help someone else in financial difficulties."

VOCATIONS

In June, three seminarians of the Diocese of East Anglia were ordained as deacons in Rome during Mass at St Paul's-outside-the-Walls Basilica. Here are their vocation stories.

Alan Hodgson

■ Born in Cape Town, South Africa, Alan Hodgson became an aircraft fitter when he was inspired by a group of Redemptorist priests who held a parish mission and whom he joined briefly. He moved to the UK and worked his way up to becoming a successful Operations Manager for Gatwick Airport but felt there was still a gap in his life.

“One evening, I was involved in a traumatic event on the way home from work which really led me to take stock of my life and to begin to search to fill the gap,” said Alan. “I found solace in front of the Blessed Sacrament and it was there that I realised that the call to priesthood, which I had buried for so long, was still there and yelling to get out.”

He met Bishop Alan and was allowed to work in the parish of Bury St Edmunds under the care of Canon Mark Hackeson before enrolling at the Beda College.

“When I look back at my life, at the young boy in South Africa who approached the Redemptorists in order to fulfil his dream and God’s call to be a priest, I cannot believe that I have finally made it to ordination and that God has been so generous to me,” said Alan.

Mike Brookes

■ Mike Brookes was raised in an Anglican family with a strong sense of offering service to others, and after university followed a career in psychiatric nursing. He was received into the Catholic Church in 1991 and later spent four years with a religious order before discerning that his future did not lie there.

Bishop Alan outside St Paul's Basilica in Rome with the three newly-ordained deacons, from the left, Mike Brookes, Alan Hodgson and Paul Spellman.

"After leaving I felt a strong sense that God was guiding me towards the discernment of diocesan priesthood, a vocation which I had not previously considered," said Mike. "My love for East Anglia centres on both its natural beauty and my strong devotion to Our Lady of Walsingham, and so I began my application to the diocese in early 2014, and for three years now my time has been split between St Marks Ipswich and the Beda College.

"Having, with God's help, reached this milestone of ordination, I wish to express my gratitude to Bishop Alan, to the people and clergy of East Anglia, and to the family and friends who have nurtured my vocation, and I look forward to serving the people of the diocese in time still to come."

Paul Spellman

■ Paul Spellman is linked with Our Lady and St Joseph in Sheringham.

"My time at the Pontifical Beda College has been one of immense personal growth," he said. "One that has required me to listen more closely, like Elijah was asked to do, to the whisper of God's voice and to bend my ear to hear what it is God is asking of me.

"Living in community has helped me to see the richness and value that it offers both to the individual as well as the group as a whole. I believe strongly that this is a true reflection of Christ in our world and why Jesus wants us all to be people who share our lives with those around us.

"My experience on pastoral placement in Palestine last summer further challenged that sense of community, especially in light of the daily experience the Palestinian people I was with have. "Jesus asks us all to give up things for the benefit of others, and as I approach being ordained a Deacon, I continue to reflect on how I can best be of service to those who need me to be just that...a servant of and for Christ."

Vocations – Br Kes Watson

Norfolk-raised Kes Watson has recently made his First Profession into the Order of Friars Minor after spending time in a Novitiate in Wisconsin, USA. This is his vocation story.

■ Born in Lithuania, but having lived in Norfolk with his family since the age of six, Kes (now aged 25) often travelled back to his mother's homeland where he met the Lithuanian Friars of St Casimir Province. Witnessing their Gospel way of life and spirituality he first felt inspired to consider becoming a Friar, too.

Br Kes Watson OFM at Burlington in the USA

Prior to joining the Friars of the UK Immaculate Conception Custody, Kes worked in a care home in his native Norfolk. In 2015, he entered the postulancy in Killarney, Ireland, with four other candidates and a year later travelled to the States for his novitiate at Burlington in the USA's Mid West.

He lived in a small community with 13 novices and three friars for the next 12 months. "I was involved with St Ben's and the House of Peace, two organisations which worked with the local African-American communities," said Kes. "One was a food pantry supplying the needs of those who struggled paying bills and needed a helping hand. The services we offered there were varied: medical care, clothing, food supplies, housing assistance, counselling, spiritual support and just a friendly person to talk to.

"The other site I helped out in was a greeting centre for the homeless. Welcoming the guests and helping in any way that we could, from medicine vouchers, clothing, showers, hygiene bags, birth certificates, out of state bus tickets for people stranded and simply being there for the guests in times of difficulty.

"My time in the Novitiate allowed me to take a step back and through prayer, community and working with the most vulnerable to challenge some of my opinions about how I look at the world and myself. It has given me some tools to continue doing my interior work and to respond to the world around me and to the people of God, which is every living person."

On August 2, 2017, on the Feast of Christ the King, Kes was clothed in the brown habit and white cord of the Order as he made his First Profession in Burlington, Wisconsin. He has since continued his formation at Athlone Friary, Ireland and enrolled for philosophy studies at Maynooth University, part of the National University of Ireland.

“The road at first may not seem clear but answering that interior invitation is the beginning of a journey,” said Kes. “I myself never imagined when I first left England at 20 years old that my life would have opened as it has, and that I would have been involved in some many people’s lives.”

Vocations – Fr Gregory Pearson

Norfolk-born Fr Gregory Pearson OP is an assistant priest at St Dominic’s, London. Here is his vocation story.

■ Born and raised in rural Norfolk, it was as a teenager at boarding school that I became drawn towards the Catholic faith (I had been brought up in the Church of England).

The need to defend and explain my Christian beliefs, to myself as much as to my sceptical peers, in the light of the challenges and questions they raised, led me to discover the beauty and coherence of the Catholic doctrinal vision.

So eventually, just before I finished school, I was received into the Church.

At university in Cambridge, the Catholic chaplaincy, Fisher House, proved a wonderful place not only to learn to think more deeply about the Faith but also to live it out as part of a genuine Christian community. It was also a place where vocation was something natural to talk about: here was a bunch of young people looking to the future and asking themselves how they could best live out their faith. As well as a fair few weddings within the chaplaincy fold, there were several examples of people entering the seminary or religious life, not least the Dominican novitiate which happens to be in Cambridge.

The same thing which had led me to the Church – seeking to present an intelligible account of Christian belief – was, I discovered, at the heart of the Dominican vocation, grounded in a common life of prayer and a commitment to study, and with preaching in its broadest sense as the Order’s work (hence the name, Order of Preachers): this seemed to me the best way I could put myself at the Lord’s service.

Today, 11 years since entering the novitiate and five years since I was ordained priest, it still does.

Vocations – Fr Joseph Welch

Fr Joseph Welch talks about his vocation as a Priest of the Oratory of St Philip Neri in Oxford.

■ Born and brought up in the parish of Our Lady & St Walstan, Costessey, I had thought first to become a priest for the diocese. Indeed, I studied at Oscott for two years soon after 'A' levels.

However, I was not yet ready for all that this would entail and leaving seminary I turned to teaching instead. Many years later – and, following a serious relationship with a non-Catholic girl, knowing that were I ever to marry I could not bring up any children except in the Faith – my thoughts turned once more to examining just how much my faith meant to me.

By this time a new Oratory had been established and, having remained in touch with the three Fathers from the Birmingham Oratory who had moved to Oxford, I began to make a number of visits.

Slowly, my sense of vocation was re-ignited and, deeply moved by the beauty of the liturgy that truly lifted heart and mind to God, and being humbled by the sight of priests not just hearing Confessions but going to Confession themselves, I began to explore what it was that the sixteenth century Apostle of Rome, St Philip Neri, had bequeathed to the Church.

Members of this congregation of secular priests live in community without vows, being bound to each other simply by the bond of fraternal charity. Without the scaffolding of solemn vows we have only our love for each other to persuade us to persevere when things get tough, as happens in any set of relationships from time to time.

But the “saint of gentleness and kindness,” as Blessed John Henry Newman called our founder, remains a constant inspiration, and striving to become more like Christ after the model of St Philip can bring that interior peace which so many seek, but fail to find.

Fr Emmanuel Sullivan (1927-2017)

Fr Emmanuel Sullivan SA, who served in the Diocese of East Anglia for a number of years, has died aged 91. Friend Nicky Murphy from Redhill pays tribute.

■ Born in 1927, in Upper New York State, USA, Fr Emmanuel entered the community of Franciscan Friars of the Atonement, at Graymoor, Garrison, NY, when he was 15; professing his Final Vows in 1952 and being ordained to the priesthood in 1955.

He achieved a PhD from Catholic University USA, and taught as Professor of Philosophy at St Joseph's Friary in Saranac Lake, and later at St Pius X Seminary, Graymoor. He undertook pastoral work in British Columbia and Massachusetts, and was appointed Ecumenical Director at St Francis Friary in London from 1968 to 1974.

From 1974 to 1977, he was a part of the Ecumenical Community at Hengrave Hall, Bury St Edmunds, and visiting scholar at St Edmunds House of Studies at Cambridge in the late 70s.

In 1983, Fr Emmanuel returned to New York to assume the role of Director of The Graymoor Ecumenical Institute until 1989. He then served as Director of the Christian Education Centre in Crawley, for one year, and after a period of sabbatical leave, was appointed in 1991 as Diocesan Ecumenical Officer for the Diocese of Arundel & Brighton, by the then Bishop Cormac Murphy O'Connor. During this time he served as Priest in Residence at St. Joseph's, Dorking, with parish priests Fr Martin Thompson and later, Fr Matt McInerney, and was actively involved in parish life.

He retired from active ministry in 1999 and returned to Graymoor serving on the Community Ecumenical Committee from 2002 until 2007. He received the Franciscan Peacemaker Award in 2007.

Though a scholar and writer, Fr Emmanuel was humble by nature. For him, people came first, and while a man of gravitas, there was often a twinkle in his eye. During his life he worked ecumenically at strategic and grass roots level. His message to different denominations and faiths was "Do what you can do together while respecting each other's differences", but he also knew that the best way towards Christian unity was to work from the top down.

His order, the Franciscan Friars of the Atonement, continue to work to facilitate Christian reconciliation and renewal, and also interreligious dialogue.

Fr Emmanuel died on December 19, 2017.

Fr Gordon Cordy (1930-2018)

Fr Gordon Cordy, who had the unique distinction of being ordained in both of Norwich's cathedrals, died peacefully on January 21 at the age of 88. Fr Michael Johnstone paid tribute in his homily at a Requiem Mass at St John's Cathedral on Friday, February 16.

Fr Gordon Cordy with his wife Mary

■ From almost his earliest days, Gordon was enfolded in the Christian faith. From his earliest days of schooling at the age of eight at Norwich School – hard by the Anglican Cathedral – it would have been difficult for Gordon not to have been deeply influenced by the faith it represents, stands for and proclaims.

But it doesn't just stand there as a presence – or witness – it is also the de facto School Chapel; and it is the place, where Gordon learnt to pray and to believe. Together with that – and the encouragement of a Catholic-influenced chaplain – the impression made on him must have been soul-forming.

Not that school, and Norwich's Anglican Cathedral, were the only influences on Gordon's incipient spirituality. For the whole of his family – living in nearby Hingham – were regulars at services in the Anglican Parish Church, where elements of Catholic theology were also preached.

There Gordon became deeply involved – as server, choir boy, Lay Reader – and even – when the elderly organist went absent-without-leave – the substitute organist.

In both places, he learnt of the promises that faith in Christ brought with it. These beliefs would stay deep in Gordon all his life.

So Gordon was brought up imbibing the richness of our faith, and knowledge of God's intimate love for him personally.

And these influences went very deep into Gordon, leading in due course, when already in his early 30s, for him to believe he was called to full, rather than simply part-time, ministry in the Church of England. And thus he set off for three years of theological study.

He cannot have found it easy after more than 10 years away from school – and with a young wife and children – to return to academic work. He had already lived with God in his life.

But the call to serve Him full-time to the end of his days, with all his energy, overcame whatever insecurity he may have felt at transferring to full-time study, and ultimately being an ordained minister in the service of his Lord. For he had found that his soul was thirsting for God.

So in his mid-30s he was ordained in the very cathedral that had been his school chapel, first as deacon and a year later as priest.

After a brief stint in Norfolk, he was drawn away for many years to parishes in Gloucestershire and Hertfordshire. Distance from the area in which he had his deep roots must have been difficult both for him and for his wife Mary.

However, even after their return to their roots in Norfolk – life was to become a deeper challenge for Gordon. First, there was the wrench from their well-established position in the Church of England, and the decision to be received and ordained into the Catholic Church at the age of nearly 70 – but it was a step that with his deeply-formed conscience he and Mary knew they had to take.

This, however, was only the prelude to an even more testing challenge. For it was not long after that that Parkinson's disease attacked Gordon.

What a trial those long years of pain and suffering, of occasional renewed hope, and then gradual worsening of his condition, were for both Gordon and Mary. But they knew that nothing could come between them and the love of Christ. And, I'm sure, that Gordon accepted that trial fully and faithfully.

As a child, as a youth, as a young man – as in old age, Gordon accepted God's will for him. And his faith did not fail.

Gordon's faith, nurtured throughout his youth, maintained and strengthened in middle age, remained strong through great trial, and to the end.

Fr Gordon was husband to Mary for 66 years and much loved by sons Colin, Timothy and Julian, daughters-in-law, eight grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Since 2002 the Diocese of East Anglia is privileged to have formed special charitable relationships with two twin dioceses, the Latin Patriarchate of Jerusalem (the Holy Land) and the Apostolic Prefecture of Battambang (Cambodia).

■ As well as individual parishes and schools entering into twinning arrangements and supporting humanitarian projects within those partnerships, our Diocese has provided funding for a number of initiatives including house renovations, educational provision, medical support, catechetical initiatives, sponsoring of seminarians, university scholarships and music activities.

Holy Land

■ In the Holy Land, efforts are channelled through the Latin Patriarchate which has an established procedure for assessing funding requests and monitoring their delivery in order that the money raised is used to best effect.

If you would like to know more about supporting a possible project from your parish, or as an individual or group, please contact Mgr Peter Leeming at Thetford, who has responsibility for the relationship between the two dioceses.

If you have a relative or a friend or are being admitted to hospital, please ensure that you indicate that you or they are a Catholic, and also would like the Catholic Chaplain to be informed of your presence in hospital. Otherwise, the Catholic Chaplain will not know that a Catholic patient is in the hospital. The secular authorities are not permitted to tell the Church if a patient is Catholic, and, according to secular rules and regulations, chaplains and parish priests are not permitted to communicate with one another regarding your presence in hospital without your permission. It is also good practice to inform hospital staff that you would like receive visitors, as some hospitals will not permit visitors who are not close family without prior permission from the patient.

Please inform: The hospital chaplain
Your parish priest
The nursing staff at the hospital upon arrival

Auditors Statement to the Trustees of The Roman Catholic Diocese of East Anglia

We have examined the summarised financial statements set out on this page.

Respective responsibilities of Trustees and Auditors

The Trustees for the preparation of the summarised financial statements. The Auditors have agreed to report on their consistency with the full financial statements, on which we reported on 30th September 2017.

Basis of opinion

We have carried out the procedures we consider necessary to ascertain whether the summarised financial statements are consistent with the full financial statements from which they have been prepared.

Opinion

In our opinion the summarised accounts are consistent with the full accounts of the Diocese for the year ended 31st December 2017.

Price Bailey
28th September 2018

Notes to the Accounts

1. The Diocese of East Anglia is not wealthy. It has limited reserves or investments of its own, receives relatively small amounts through legacies and donations and has no means of raising income other than from its parishes. This it does by levying charges or quotas based as a percentage of parish offertory collections. The income which it receives is used to pay for the organisation and administration of all Diocesan activities, for the repairs and adaptations to its schools, for the training of future Diocesan priests and for all those services which are given to parishes without charge. Comments on some of these Diocesan activities, which are highlighted in the SOFA under "General Funds", "Designated Funds", or "Parochial Funds", are included below.

2. The activities of the Diocese are largely undertaken through its parishes. Of the overall diocesan finances, parishes account for over 83% of income and approximately 71% of expenditure with some 70% of the Diocesan charity's net assets being held at parochial level. The work of the parishes involves amongst other things the pastoral care of the Roman Catholic and general community of the parish and maintenance and upkeep of places of worship.

3. An ongoing fund-raising campaign has been undertaken since February 2015. This has four primary aims to provide funding for the following:

- Training of future priests
- Support of retired clergy
- Special parish projects
- Social outreach

Up to the year ending on 31 December 2017 the project had raised £1,930,031, net of expenditure on Parish Projects and Social Outreach grants. Total fundraising costs over the 5 years are expected to be around 12% of the amount raised.

4. At 31 December 2017 the Diocese's reserves stood at £30.93m. Of this, £2.4m is restricted to particular uses and £4.4m has been designated by the Trustees for certain specific purposes.

5. Of the remaining reserves parochial funds amount to £20.75m of which £14.91m is represented by fixed assets in the form of churches and other property which are required for the purposes of the Diocese and could not be realised without undermining its work. This leaves free parochial reserves of £5.84m which represents between 1 - 2 year's total parochial expenditure and levy charges. This level of reserves is considered necessary by the Trustees to enable the parishes to conduct their work in an orderly and efficient manner as well as providing income through investments to supplement the amounts received by donations.

6. General reserves amount to £3.31m of which £0.68m is represented by fixed assets leaving free reserves of £2.13m. This is considered necessary in order for the Diocese to continue supporting and advising the parishes. The Trustees aim to maintain the Diocese's overall free reserves at least at the present level to continue to provide the support necessary for the Diocese to fulfil its objects.

APOSTLESHIP OF THE SEA (AoS)

The Apostleship of the Sea AoS is the official maritime and welfare mission agency of the Catholic Church in Great Britain, as well as a registered charity wholly reliant on voluntary contributions. Ninety percent of world trade is carried by ship; however seafarers often work in dangerous conditions suffering loneliness, deprivation and even exploitation. AoS deploys chaplains and ship visitors who welcome vulnerable merchant seafarers to our shores and provides for their pastoral and practical needs – regardless of creed or nationality. Catholic seafarers are also given the opportunity to receive the sacraments. AoS also provides chaplains on board cruise ships, works to maintain ecumenical seafarers’ centres inside ports, and collaborates with industry bodies to speak up for seafarers’ rights. AoS relies on a network of valued parish contacts and volunteers to sustain its development.

CATHOLIC UNION OF GREAT BRITAIN AND CATHOLIC UNION CHARITABLE TRUST

The Catholic Union of Great Britain CUGB is the consistent voice of the Catholic laity which works to promote and develop the values of our Catholic social teaching by working with the Bishops' Conference and members of both Houses of Parliament. This is to ensure that our values are presented to key decision makers who determine legislation and social policy. We also work to promote the common good in public life and it is vital that the Catholic voice continues to be proclaimed in public. We liaise with the wider Christian community on issues of common interest. The funding of CUGB is by annual individual membership subscription.

The Catholic Union Charitable Trust CUCT was launched in February 2015. This will develop and strengthen the role of advancing Catholic moral and spiritual principles by means of conferences, lectures, training and seminars on education and by the implementation of a social media strategy. The funding of the CUCT is by donation through the gift aid scheme.

EQUESTRIAN ORDER OF THE HOLY SEPULCHRE OF JERUSALEM KHS
LIEUTENANCY OF ENGLAND AND WALES

The Order of the Holy Sepulchre was first established under papal patronage in the twelfth century as a body of knights to defend the Church in the Holy Land. In the nineteenth century, Pope Blessed Pius IX reconstituted the Order to support through prayer, pilgrimage and charitable giving the Latin Patriarchate of Jerusalem. In our times, the need for solidarity with the 'living stones' who maintain the Catholic faith in the Holy Land is stronger than ever. The Lieutenancy of England and Wales is part of a worldwide organisation of 30,000 knights and dames, priests and bishops, who support the church of the Holy Land by humanitarian aid, pastoral care and education.

GRAIL SECULAR INSTITUTE

The Grail Secular Institute offers a particular way of life to single or widowed Catholic women. Those who belong, make a formal commitment to live out their baptismal promises through the channel of the Grail and its mission. There are two ways of belonging: as members of the Grail Community, or as individual members Companions. All members seek to find God in their everyday life situations. Community members live together, expressing a simple, uncluttered and celibate life-style. They aim to be open, to heal and to release the gifts of those whom they meet. They are accountable to those with whom they live and see all that they undertake as enabling people to grow towards their full potential. Companions of the Grail live independently and follow their chosen occupation. This makes specific demands on each person, but also provides challenge, support and guidance. They meet regularly in area groups and aim to be alert to developments and needs in both Church and society so as to bring an informed response to daily situations. Companions and the Grail Community spend time together each year to share more deeply the ethos and mission of the Grail. See also Grail Society, below.

SECULAR DISCALCED CARMELITE ORDER

(Community of Our Lady of Walsingham)

Following in the footsteps of the great Carmelite reformers St Teresa of Jesus and St John of the Cross, generations of Carmelites have discovered in the Carmelite way of life a means of developing a close relationship with God and a wonderful foundation for serving God's people. Under the protection of Mary the Mother of God, Secular Carmelites are women and men, married or single, lay or clerical who live out this heritage through the circumstances of daily life, Holy Scripture, the sacramental life of the Church, and contemplative prayer. We have a Rule of Life supported by a formation programme. For further information please contact:

SECULAR FRANCISCAN ORDER – EAST ANGLIAN REGION

Secular Franciscans – are a fraternity of Catholic lay men and women, and diocesan clergy. We know it is impossible to fall out of God's love. Our brokenness and sin can keep us from growing but we cannot stop God from loving us. The exquisite tenderness of God's love is revealed in the helplessness of a baby, the defencelessness of a crucified man, and the silence of the consecrated bread and wine on the altar. God approaches us with such humility and leaves Himself open to rejection. With his whole heart St Francis understood that it is the manner of God's coming to us as Jesus Christ that tells us the extent of his love for us.

At the heart of the Secular Franciscan Order is St Francis' call to lead the Gospel life. Secular Franciscans strive to live the Gospel in our lay state, gaining inspiration from the example and writings of St Francis. We seek to deepen, in the light of faith, the values and choices of life. We strive to lead lives of continuing conversion – through a life of penance, evangelical simple living, and prayer – supported by programmes of formation. Visitors to our meetings can be assured of a warm welcome. Further information about the Secular Franciscans is available on our National Fraternity website: www.ofsgb.org.

SPECIAL PROJECTS IN CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY AREAS

For 50 years SPICMA has been reaching out to the poorest and most marginalized in the developing world. Small communities often lack the means of approaching the larger charities or their needs are too small for consideration by them. SPICMA has focused its work through missionary congregations and diocesan clergy, helping tens of thousands with development grants and emergency aid. This builds up the capacity of the local church as we realise the importance of faith and an effective partner on the ground. We have no offices and all of us are unpaid volunteers.
